KING'S KITCHEN CELEBRATES 10TH ANNIVERSARY; MORE THAN 400,000 MEALS SERVED

BY CASSANDRA FAVRE
STAFF WRITER

The King's Kitchen soup kitchen in Bay St. Louis on Friday celebrated its 10th anniversary with a replication of its first meal ever served, baked chicken, mashed potatoes and gravy, green beans, salad, and rolls.

King's Kitchen is a community outreach service of Central Bible Church and opened its doors on Nov. 19, 2012 and served 45 meals. Now, the kitchen averages between 200 and 250 plates per day.

"Over the course of time, in the last 10 years, we estimate that we have served this community over 400,000 meals to the needy," Central Bible Church pastor Mike Ramsey said.

Connie Lyons, outreach pastor at the kitchen, said Friday it was a good day to celebrate.

Lubertha Parker, August Indovina, and Edna Marie Rose Saucier are the current chefs for the King's Kitchen, Lyons said.

The oldest and longest serving volunteer, who has been involved with the kitchen for 10 years, is Joyce Paulk, Lyons said.

There are two bakers who donate baked goods to the kitchen, Dolly Lunberg and Glynnis Piazza.

"I think it's really benefited the community on several levels," she said.

Last May, Central Bible Church opened the Henley wins Hancock District 2 school board race by four votes

BY GEOFF BELCHER
GENERAL MANAGER

Last week's election in Hancock County was certified on Wednesday evening, and after all the votes were counted in the school board District 2 race, Dr. Daniel Henley earned 636 votes to incumbent Tammy Garber's 632.

"I am honored and humbled to be selected as the new school board member for the Hancock County School District," Henley said in a statement issued Wednesday evening. "My 20 years of diverse educational experience as a high school principal, teacher, college instructor, coach, and bus driver will help me make effective decisions for the stakeholders of the district and to help the superintendent, school board, and educators of the Hancock County School District move the district forward to greater heights. As Mr. David Kopf, a former Hancock superintendent would say, 'Today a Hawk, tomorrow

a Hawk, forever a Hawk
- Hawk Pride!”

On election night, Garber finished with 631 votes to challenger Henley's 634, but Hancock Circuit Clerk Kendra Necaie said there were still 53 affidavit ballots left to count, as well as 13 voter IDs to validate, before the election could be certified.

Garber "has the opportunity to ask for a review," Necaise said. "She has 12 days to do it. If she wants to do it, she has to give notice. If she's not satisfied after that, she can ... contest the election."

Hancock Tourism celebrates Snowflakes campaign, new board and gift shop

BY GEOFF BELCHER
GENERAL MANAGER

The Hancock County Tourism Bureau on Saturday kicked off its annual Snowflakes in the Bay celebration and announced it's headed into the holiday season with a brand new board and a brand new gift shop inside the Mardi Gras Museum.

"I'm excited about our new board," Hancock Tourism Executive Director Myrna Green said last week. "We have new officers — Rachel Knight is our new president, David Hilbert is our vice-president, and Cami Cornfoot is our secretary/treasurer. ... Rachel is going to be a great, great leader."

Other representatives on the board include Mark Garcia, appointed by the board of supervisors; Alan Lagarde, appointed by the Hancock Chamber; Kimberly Boushie, appointed by the city of Waveland; Cindy Knoblock, re-appointed to the board by the city of Bay St. Louis; and Paul Harris and Kay Kell, but reappointed by the Hancock County Board of Supervisors.

"We are also opening a gift shop to support the Mardi Gras Museum (inside the Depot building)," Green said. "The things that are going to be featured there are Mardi Gras-themed,” including art prints of late artist and designer Carter Church’s sketches for dozens of the ornate Mardi Gras costumes he created.

The shop also sells note cards featuring Church's designs, along with hand-painted Mardi Gras-themed coffee mugs designed by Hancock Middle School art teacher Kristi Lindsey's 6th, 7th and 8th grade students.

"I think what Mrs. Lindsey and her students have accomplished is amazing," Green said. "They're beautiful."

Proceeds from sales will support the Mardi Gras Museum, which features many of Church's original costumes.

“Betsy Christianson (sister of Church’s late partner Yancy Pogue) has been instrumental in supporting the museum and opening the gift shop,” Green said.

The Snowflakes in the Bay campaign highlights holiday-themed events from Thanksgiving week to New Years Eve in Hancock County.

The first event, the annual Waveland Christmas Bazaar, was originally scheduled for Saturday, but operated on Sunday due to the rain.

Other Snowflake events include:

Members of Bay St. Louis’ Christ Episcopal Church on Wednesday served a pre-Thanksgiving feast to patrons of The King’s Kitchen in Bay St. Louis.

The King’s Kitchen, a soup kitchen serving the needy, is one of Central Bible Church’s community outreach programs.

Susan Stevens, a member of Christ Episcopal Church, said the church has been providing a Thanksgiving meal for the past 70 years, generally from their church, and it’s called “The Harvest Dinner.”

“But this year, we decided to serve it to King’s Kitchen instead,” Stevens said.

Church members served turkey, dressing, sweet potatoes casserole, spinach casserole, gravy, cranberry relish, a dinner roll and desert.

“All of our members prepared the food at home,” she said. “We planned for 300.”

Stevens said Christ Church would like to thank the King’s Kitchen for their service to the community.

“We think it’s an outstanding resource and we’re happy to participate in this small, very small way,” she said.

Christ Church member Malin Chamberlain said, in the past, the church has sold several hundred Thanksgiving plates.

“We couldn’t do it this year and we missed doing it,” she said. “So somebody said, ‘how about King’s Kitchen?’ and that was just about a month ago. So within a month, we have gathered all our resources again, happily, and enjoyed it. And here we are meeting all new people and doing

Clothesline, which features clothing and shoes for all ages. There is a children’s section, young adults section, as well as sections for adult men and women.

The clothing items are hung and separated, marked by size, and clothing type. There are also “hot pick” items, which include jewelry and handbags.

There is a also a styling station, where local hairstylists and barbers donate time to cut, shampoo, and style hair for free.

The Clothesline is managed by Fran Cremer and Linda Carver, Lyons said.

The newest venture is the installation of a shower and laundry room facilities, Lyons said. She said they are in need of a contractor to close in the attic and create a drop ceiling, so it can open on a full-time basis.

The laundry room is sponsored by Diamondhead Community Church, Lyons said.

It is only open on a temporary basis for the homeless, she added.

“It’s our honor, in conjunction with help from numerous other local churches, organizations, individuals, and civic groups to do what little we are able to do help the needy in our area,” Ramsey said. “Truly, this community exemplifies the power and spirit of working as one to help our own.”

King’s Kitchen is a 501 (c)3 organization and depends on charitable donations from the community as well as the church.

“We are pleased to say that we are helped by just about every church in our area, by so many wonderful individuals who give regularly, by restaurants, grocery stores, and organizations which help us regularly with food donations, and

LIVE
BY WORDS

“As we express our gratitude, we must never forget that the highest appreciation is not to utter words, but to live by them,” — John F. Kennedy

Tomorrow is Thanksgiving Day, a day set aside to give thanks for all our blessings and spend with family.

Our social media feeds will no doubt be sprinkled with some thankful posts, but they will be overwhelmed with the pictures of copious amounts of food, updates on the Thanksgiving Day Parade, squabbles about whatever football teams are playing, and plenty of ads about the Black Friday sales.

It has always seemed to me that actually being thankful and then applying that philosophy all year long gets lost in the shuffle of consumerism and gluttony.

There are a lot of places that offer free Thanksgiving meals, but here in Hancock County, The King’s Kitchen provides that much-needed service all year long.

STAFF COLUMN
BY Cassandra Favre

This week, the Central Bible Church community outreach soup kitchen celebrated 10 years of feeding the needy.

During that time, they’ve also added the Clothesline, a clothing closet for people who might need a warm jacket, durable shoes, or an outfit for a job interview.

I’ve covered many a story at The King’s Kitchen and I’ve always admired the work that goes into feeding and clothing the needy. Mrs. Connie, Pastor Mike, and the numerous volunteers keep the kitchen running like a well-oiled machine. While there have been hiccups like refrigerator breakdowns, food shortages, and such, members of the community find a way to help out.

I volunteered one Thanksgiving Day a few years ago to serve food. It was a humbling experience.

I also recommend people volunteer at soup kitchens or shelters to gain a better understanding of the hardships a lot of people face.

Remember, a LOT of people are just one missed paycheck and one missed mortgage payment from finding themselves in the same boat.

I’ve heard it said before that a lot of people don’t like looking at the homeless population camped out in places and that they don’t like the idea of having shelters in their cities.

And I say, shame on them. It is absolutely horrifying when people judge and want to further punish people who have had a turn of bad luck or

Hancock History: The Ioor (Joor) Family

The Ioor (Joor) Family owned a large holding of land in what would later be known as Lakeshore and Clermont Harbor in the mid-Nineteenth Century. John Ioor called his plantation “Point Clear” (Point Claire). It was located east of Bayou Caddy. Today, a strip of marshland west of Bayou Caddy is named Point Clear, but this particular spot would not have been suitable for a plantation.

An ancestor of H. C. Joor, George Joor, lived on a plantation in South Carolina which he called “Clermont,” and at one time there was once a Clermont County in South Carolina. George Joor’s grandson, John Ioor, purchased a tract of land sometime in the 1820s, 3,990 acres (six square miles) that included Lakeshore and Clermont Harbor. He was an absentee landlord of this plantation who owned slaves and grew cotton. John lived in Woodville, Mississippi, but he traveled to the plantation several times a year. His son, Peter Ioor, moved to Hancock County around 1871. Peter married Charlotte Withers Herron (1810-1871) of Charleston, South Carolina.

In 1897, Judge John Ioor and Professor F. C. Bordage, Sr., purchased the property which they called “Clermont City” and laid down or filed with the county the original plat of streets. Two of these streets today bear the names of Ioor and Bordage. Other names of the Ioor family are also currently street names: Herron, Guignard, and Poinsett. Bordage was a principal of the Waveland Public School and served as the deputy county clerk and assessor. By 1911, there were fifteen resident property owners and five non-residents, probably from New Orleans.

It was in that year that a new enterprise, the Gulf Coast Development Company (GCD), was formed. The village was renamed “Clermont Harbor” because the new owners of most of the land intended to dig a magnificent lake with a harbor. By 1913, the President of the GCD, Charles Hopkins, proposed building a hotel with the hope that one day Clermont Harbor would be the “Riviera of New Orleans.” Hopkins built the Harbor Inn which was a beautiful hotel with Greek Revival architecture. Sadly, the Hurricane of 1915 nearly destroyed the building. Nevertheless, Hopkins rebuilt the hotel in 1926. The village had survived and in this time frame there were two groceries, two bars, two churches, an ice cream parlor, and a commuter train.

The Harbor Inn was enjoyed by visitors during the Depression. However, the hotel failed financially, and was put up for sale in 1946, and was sold to Wilfred Guerin and the Clermont Harbor Hotel Corporation. Unfortunately, the hotel burned down that year. The community of Clermont Harbor was a popular beach resort destination for fifty-nine years despite the inconveniences of Hurricane Betsy (1965) and Hurricane Camille (1969). Even so, Hurricane Katrina in 2005 destroyed all the buildings leaving only the raw land. Today, there are only a few camps on raised piers in what is now a ghost town.

In our next column the era of oil-drilling in Clermont Harbor will be presented.

Dear Echo,
WARNING TO GRANDPARENTS

As I was waving my Johnny Dupree sign outside the Waveland Library Voting Place, an older gentleman (younger than I though), came over to ask me why he should vote for Dupree. I answered, well, he was elected three times Mayor of Hattiesburg, but he replied, “That’s why I don’t like him. I don’t trust any politicians.”

That cynicism you hear all the time—it is a commonplace. And so wrong. Why do you want a non-politician to do a political job?

It reminded me of my grandfather’s advice when I was a child—never vote for a non-politician. I grew up in his house (my father having been killed in WWII) and looked on him with reverence. He was an ardent Republican (my mother warned never to utter the name of President Truman in the home), hated Roosevelt and Democrats, but he’d lived through Republican Herbert Hoover’s Depression and that was the lesson he taught me. Hoover was an Engineer, not a politician, and the result was that he didn’t know how to work with politicians to avert the catastrophe.

His skills weren’t suited to working with people.

In answering the objection to voting for a three-time mayor, and worse not even from the Coast, I offered a recent example. The Corps of Engineers (detect a theme?) was considering extending the levee system to New Orleans East. It would avert flooding for 100,000 homes, it was argued. The fact that it would have disastrous effects on smaller towns, like Pearlington—or further wipe out the Mississippi shrimp and oyster industries by depositing Mississippi River runoff into our beds is ignored.

When Johnny Dupree was told of this, at a Q & A after one of his speeches in Bay St. Louis, he immediately called Congressman Bennie Thompson to protest. He was told the Corps of Engineers plan had to go through Homeland Security, and we had a Mississippian in charge there, so the proposal would not be approved. That, I said, is how politicians deal with things—by knowing how the political system works, and using it for the benefit of constituents. Throwing a non-politician into that mix would just be a wasted vote for someone who would have to spend years just learning the job, in my view.

So I just want to pass on this word of advice to grandparents: don’t pass on your prejudices about politics to your grandchildren. Republican or Democrat can change directions over time, but pass on wisdom about what works, regardless of party. Don’t be too cynical about politics, and be very suspicious of people running for national office without any local experience, as total anti-politicians. Recognize that some experience in the job might be a good thing!

U.S. Marshals return Hancock fugitive hiding in Canada

BY GEOFF BELCHER
GENERAL MANAGER

U.S. marshals on Wednesday returned a Hancock County man accused of child molestation to local custody after he allegedly hid out in Canada for the past eight years.
Matthew Murphy is being held without bond at the Hancock County Justice Facility on two counts of touching a child for lustful purposes, gratification, molesting.
“This has been going on for awhile,” Sheriff Ricky Adam said Thursday.
Murphy was initially charged in 2012 and released on bond in 2013. Warrants were issued for his arrest after he failed to show up for court in June 2014.

The U.S. Marshals got involved in the matter in 2021 and tracked him to Dunnville, Ontario. With the assistance of the Toronto Fugitive Squad, they arrested him on April 7, 2021, but Canadian authorities refused to extradite him at the time.
“The Marshals found him and wanted to do an extradition,” Adam said, “but (Canada) wouldn’t extradite him due to what is perceived to be going on in the Mississippi prison system.

“We had to go through the District Attorney’s office and work out a deal where ... if he is convicted, he would serve his time here in the Hancock County Justice Facility, rather than in Parchman. That plan was submitted to MDOC (Mississippi Department of Corrections) and they approved it.”

Adam said he’s glad the case is finally going to be able to go through the court system.
“Whatever it takes, we don’t like our criminals or suspected criminals being anywhere else, nor do we want other places’ criminals here,” Adam said. “We will do what we have to do.”
A preliminary hearing in the case has been scheduled in Hancock Justice Court for Dec. 13.

Waveland P.D. nabs 5 suspects in vehicle burglaries

ECHO STAFF

Waveland police arrested five Louisiana men as suspects in two vehicle burglaries early on Thursday morning.
At approximate 3:37 a.m. Thursday, “the Waveland Police Department received a call regarding a vehicle burglary,” Chief Michael Prendergast said in a press release. “The complainant advised that they were alerted by their Ring doorbell alarm and they happened to be awake and called dispatch.

“Officers arrived in the area and located the suspect’s vehicle parked at the end of the cul de sac. The vehicle was occupied by four suspects, a fifth suspect was located approximately one hour later. After speaking to the complainant and another neighbor, both of their vehicles had been burglarized.”
Officers arrested Tyler Hartley,

22, of New Orleans; Caden Nix, 20, Thaddeus Thompson Jr., 19, and Eugene Wellington, 21, all of Slidell; and Tyre Malek Young, 19, of Metairie.
“All suspects have been charged with two counts of burglary of a vehicle at this time,” Prendergast said. “More charges are pending.”
Prendergast anyone who may have been a victim in the incident to call central dispatch at 228-467-3669.

A saying I see floating about the Internet that I absolutely agree with is “There’s no greater hate than Christian love.”
And yes, I am smart enough to know that it’s not all Christians.
But, as usual, it’s the hateful ones that get a lot of the attention.
Those who want to call this a “Christian nation,” don’t actually want to help people. They don’t want to actually help the people in pain or poverty, it’s just easier to lock them up in a prison facility or just ignore them completely.

That’s why I’m glad that King’s Kitchen is located here. I’m glad there is an option for people who need a meal, which is a basic human right, I feel.
And yet, on Thanksgiving Day, so many will complain about not finding this or that at the store, when they have not only the means to gasp change the menu and buy something else, not only on this day of feasting, but throughout the year.

Again, it’s more Christ-like to help people, rather than turning the other cheek.
So this Thanksgiving, I’m also grateful for the King’s Kitchen, its volunteers and constant supply of food provided by the community and businesses who live by their words all year long.
The King’s Kitchen is located at 2005 Longfellow Rd., Bay St. Louis and is currently open Monday, Wednesday, and Friday from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. and is operating as a drive-thru for the time being.

ANN ARRAS WILLIAMSON

Ann Arras Williamson, 84, of Bay St. Louis, MS passed away Friday, November 18, 2022 surrounded by her loving husband, daughter and granddaughter.

She was a wonderful and loving wife, mother and sister who will be sadly missed by her family and friends.

In addition, Ann was an attorney serving clients in Hancock and Pearl River counties and from Pearlington to Ocean Springs.

She was preceded in death by her parents, Frederick and Winnie Arras, daughter, Rhonda Williamson Derenbecker and sister, Kay Bourgeois.

Ann is survived by her devoted husband of 34 years, Greg Kothmann, Sr. of Bay St. Louis; daughters, Elizabeth Pichoff of Livingston, TX; Christy Lynn Ladner of Diamondhead, MS, son, Greg Kothmann, Jr. of Kiln, MS; and grandchildren, Jason Williamson, of Livingston, TX; BJ Ladner of Waveland, MS; Ryan Derenbecker of Dallas, TX; Ashley Ann Derenbecker, Ensign, US Navy, of Wheaton MD; Scott Tartavouille of Diamondhead, MS; Sarah Kothmann Ladner of Kiln, MS; Kyle Derenbecker of Dallas, TX; Brandon Tartavouille of Oxford, MS; and Emily Kothmann of Diamondhead, MS; four great grandchildren; and sister, Sue Louque (Danny) of Grand Point, LA.

Ann attended Dominican High School in New Orleans, LA before graduating from Lutchter High School in Lutchter, LA. After graduating from LSU, Ann taught school in Arkansas and Jackson, MS. While in Jackson she entered law school at the age of 35 as the only female in her class. She was a full-time teacher and mother of two small children.

Upon graduating CUM LAUDE in 1976, she moved to and opened her practice in Bay St. Louis, where she continued to practice serving Social Security disability and disabled clients until her recent illness.

In 1988, she was appointed Public Defender for Youth Court, a position she served until 1993 when she was named Youth Court Judge serving the neglected and abused children of Hancock County. As Judge, Ann saw the need for and began a non-profit with the help of four local business women, Hope Haven of Hancock County, which began as a shelter for her special children.

Today, Hope Haven is a Children's Advocacy Center, one of only twelve in the state. In 1995, Ann received an award from CASA representing each child's life she touched. A true hope for a child's new beginning. In 1996 Ann was chosen as the Child Advocate of the year presented by The Committee for the Prevention of Child Abuse.

She was a true child advocate and her devotion to these children helped many abused children's voices be heard. She was very proud of how Hope Haven has developed over the years and with its plans for the future. Ann was a member of the Hancock County Bar Association, the Mississippi State Bar Association, the National Council of Juvenile and Family Court Judges, and the Mississippi Youth Court Judges Council. In 1996, Ann was invited by then Mississippi Bar President L.F. "Sandy" Samb Jr. to participate in a special conference for the President's Forum in Oxford to consider the various problems and issues facing the legal profession in Mississippi. What neighborhood do you live in and why? Where are your favorite places to spend time in Waveland?

My favorite places to spend time are at home with family, Waveland's beach, and Gex Park on Coleman Ave. I used to hang out on the beach myself as a kid, and my six children all grew up playing there too. Now, I've got eight grandchildren, and they love to go to Waveland's Public Library. When the Garfield Ladner Pier is functional, we all enjoy taking walks on the pier.

After Hurricane Katrina, my wife and I had jobs that allowed us to live anywhere in the United States. Instead of moving away, we rebuilt and moved back to this wonderful city because we couldn't imagine living anywhere else. Waveland is our home. Since 2001, I've been a resident of Ward 2. With the redistricting of the city this year, I am now a resident of Ward 1.

What do you think the number one issue Waveland is facing right now and what would you do to resolve it?

I have my own ideas about the issues facing Waveland, but as the mayor of Waveland, it is more important to know the issues that most concern the citizens.

As I walk the neighborhoods and speak with citizens, it became clear that the citizens of our city are concerned about community development and financial responsibility. Some of the primary concerns under community development included public safety, roads and drainage, the revitalization of Coleman Avenue, repairing the Garfield Ladner Pier, and creating more recreational opportunities for our city's youth.

Under financial responsibility, the citizens are worried about the cost of flood insurance, the lack of outside funding for city projects, rising cost of utility bills, and transparency from city government.

The next mayor must be able to address these concerns plus run the day-to-day operations of the city. It is not an easy task, but one that I would welcome. I've been successful in turning around floundering healthcare companies so I know I can help move Waveland forward over the next four years.

What is the one thing you like the most about life in Waveland?

The citizens. I love the small town charm of Waveland. The citizens are friendly, polite, and come to the aid of others in need.

If you could change one thing about Waveland, what would it be?

Blighted property is something that concerns me. It's been 17 years since Hurricane Katrina and Waveland still has many blighted properties. The city has recently had some success dealing with these blighted properties. I understand the legal process involved to have a blighted property condemned and demolished does not happen overnight, but we must do what we can to speed this process along.

Why are you seeking public office and what do you hope to achieve?

I'm seeking public office because many, many citizens have asked me to run for mayor. These citizens recognized my past positions on various local boards and committees and noticed my ability to "make things happen." Becoming mayor of Waveland is not about a paycheck or retirement for me; it's about bringing my knowledge, experiences, and leadership skills to city hall to continue moving our city forward.

Over the past few years, our city has rebounded to some degree from the damage of Hurricane Katrina. The next mayor needs to be someone that can bring Waveland back to pre-Katrina status, and continue to improve it beyond that point.

I believe I am the candidate with a unique perspective, who will not only lead Waveland over the next four years, but who can also develop a plan and a culture of leadership that will be in place for generations to come. I know that by working together with the citizens we can make our great city even better!

MICAH TINKLER (I)

Hey there! My name is Micah Tinkler. I am your independent candidate for Mayor of Waveland. Neither right-wing, nor left-wing. Like most of you, I'm part of the great common center.

What is your educational/professional background and how would you apply that to your office on behalf of the people of Waveland?

- Bachelor of Science: Marine Biology.
- Bachelor of Science: Environmental Science.
- Graduated with Honors with minors in History & Chemistry.
- Sixteen years with the Naval Oceanographic Office (NAVO) as an Oceanographer/Physical Scientist/IT System Administrator/Surveyor and Lead Representative on Overseas LIDAR Survey Missions.
- Eight years (and counting) in Real Estate, the last two as the Broker of my business, Double Win Realty (est. August 2020).
- Finally, I teach the curious how to use whole life insurance as a financial tool to create compounding interest, generate wealth and simultaneously pay down debt.

I have succeeded in multiple careers and conquered a wide variety of challenges. I have built a diverse stack of skills from scientific research and data analysis to marketing, persuasion and negotiation. I learned to be innovative and productive in both a ponderous bureaucracy (the U.S. Federal Government) and in a nimble home-based business.

I've led teams of scientists and contractors on multi-month missions to developing countries from Africa to the Far East. I've worked with foreign governments, militaries, scientific institutes and ambassadors to advance U.S. interests.

Now, I follow a Code of Ethics to advance the real estate and life insurance interests of my clients above my own. I'm no angel; however I'm ethical, rational and can clearly communicate complex ideas, systems and information to my clients and fellow citizens.

Ethical, imaginative, persuasive leadership feels like exactly the skill stack our new mayor needs to make Waveland amazing.

What neighborhood do you live in and why? Where are your favorite places to spend time in Waveland?

I have lived for 12 years in Ward 3, the Waveland Highlands subdivision, on Dicks St. I'm committed to it.

This house "felt right" to me after my first Waveland home was destroyed by Katrina.

I remained in Waveland because I believed we would build back better. Sadly, it feels like Waveland fell short of our minimal recovery expectations.

Like most honest residents of Waveland, I have no favorite places to spend time IN Waveland. I go elsewhere or stay home.

Who plans a date with their sweetheart... in Waveland?

Who goes shopping for cool stuff... in Waveland?

Who loves that awesome new hangout spot... in Waveland?

Who visits the great downtown bar and music scene... in Waveland?

If you're truthful, the answer is... NO ONE.

Waveland has neglected solitude with an increasing price of ownership.

We will tackle these problems as a unified city.

What do you think the number one issue Waveland is facing right now and what would you do to resolve it?

There is a reason folks in Gulfport and Biloxi call Waveland "The Swamp." We are a low-lying city on the Gulf of Mexico.

Flood insurance is the #1 issue in Waveland and it's about to cost an additional $2.5M A YEAR.

The existing discounts to flood insurance are expiring with the October 2021 FEMA Risk Rating 2.0 changes to the NFIP. Legislative fixes like the Senator Cindy Hyde-Smith (R-Miss) introduced Homeowner Flood Insurance Transparency and Protection Act, may kick the can down the road; however a lasting solution requires altering the physical environment of Waveland.

Coleman Avenue is a flood velocity zone and remains under-developed due to cost-prohibitive elevation requirements. Jackson Marsh (Dobson's Pond) is a side door for hurricane storm surge to travel deep into Waveland's Ward 4. Always overlooked Bayou Philip is exposed to flooding from Bay St. Louis and cutoff from tall vessels passing under the Highway 603 Bridge.

Infrastructure investments like the Bluewater in Waveland Project (bluewater.ms) or Clearwater Gulf Coast, should be validated & tested while our city council secures permits and grants to build a lasting solution. The high price of insurance destroyed Pearlington. Failure to act on this issue could condemn Waveland to the same fate. We require a large scale storm surge protection infrastructure project to "change the math" on the flood insurance risks to Waveland.

Would you do me a small favor? Call your flood insurance agent and ask them to rate you a new flood insurance policy under Risk Rating 2.0. The difference between your current policy and the new, is what delay will cost you. Let me know what you learn.

What is the one thing you like the most about life in Waveland?

The unrealized potential to be Amazing.

If you could change one thing about Waveland, what would it be?

The flood risk is the prime problem. Solving this one thing unlocks Waveland to development, growth and the amazing future we COULD have. Waveland is like a marathon runner forced to compete while lugging a 100 lb. bag of wet salt. In housing price appreciation we rank #14, behind the Kiln! We lead only Pearlington, Moss Point and Pascagoula when we have the potential to be a rich, protected and hospitable city. Let's avoid Waveland becoming a discount version of Bay St. Louis. Together, we can set Waveland free to flourish as its own unique city on the MS Gulf Coast.

Why are you seeking public office and what do you hope to achieve?

I have three major motivating reasons and lots of minor reasons. Come with me and I will make my major reasons clear.

Imagine, you and a friend are enjoying a wonderful day out on the banks of the river. As you relax you suddenly hear the cries of a child. You look at the river and see a child floating down the river, kicking and screaming and about to drown.

You and your friend jump in to help. Just as you get the child to shore, you hear ANOTHER cry for help in the river. There’s a 2nd child, coming down the river, kicking and screaming and about to drown. Back in the water you go with your friend.

As you get the 2nd child to shore, you hear a 3rd cry for help. Sure enough, there’s a third child floating down the river. You look upriver and you can just make out a fourth child coming round the bend.

Your friend turns and starts running up river. You yell, “Hey! Where you going?”

Your friend says, “I’m going upstream to tackle the joker that keeps chucking kids in the river!”

The past Waveland mayor and city councils have done a reasonable job over the years in saving the “drowning children” as they come down the river. Rational people can disagree on this point. Perhaps in the same situation you would have acted differently? Predicting the possible results of a decision is a far cry from making the call and finding out.

Waveland has problems coming down the river. Some of those problems are backing up, like our roads and drainage.

Some of those problems are severe and lethal. Many we can solve upstream before they become drowning kids.

How would you feel about a mayor and city council thinking “upstream” and stopping major problems early? How would you, as a citizen of Waveland, feel about spending that ounce of prevention before it requires a pound of cure?

It depends, right?

How about an executive communication system that publicly lays out the pros, cons and potential trade-offs of an upcoming decision so you, the citizen, can understand it fast and collaborate with your alderman?

Would it be crazy to avoid spending countless frustrating hours reading through meeting minutes and instead have an updated, searchable site that could quickly get anyone up to speed on all major Waveland issues?

Let us get to my 2nd major reason.

Flood insurance. The Oct. 2021 changes to the National Flood Insurance Program represent an existential threat to Waveland. The older homes in Waveland that survived Katrina are facing massive flood insurance premium increases.

Laws and ordinances fail to alter the actual risks of damaging storm surge. Laws require subsidies that the federal government is now unwilling to pay. Shoreline infrastructure is required to change the physical environment and change the risk.

Has everyone read about the proposed mile-long lagoon project in Gulfport? It was presented to the Harrison County Supervisors on Monday, Sept. 12, 2022 by Mr. Kenneth Jones, owner of Gulf Coast Development & Design in Gulfport.

Like the www.bluewater.ms project and the Bayou La Batre, Alabama “Alternative Shoreline,” it aims to protect the Coast during a hurricane combined with a tourist attraction. It seems impossible to keep this good idea down.

Will Waveland be last? Or do we lead?

And now my 3rd major reason.

Waveland is stagnant. In 2022, Waveland maintains the same 77-year-old municipal structure from World War II that pays by the hour and discourages innovation and experimentation.

When a system works poorly, people create workarounds. When the official system falters, slows down or fails, citizens use personal connections and request favors to solve their problems. The solution is NOT to force everyone to continue to use the old, stagnant system! The answer is a re-engineered system containing meaningful feedback loops to create solutions in a timely, productive manner.

Our current municipal system is broken and falling behind. Some of the existing system is useful and should remain, however much of it requires revitalization and re-engineering. We owe a debt of gratitude to our past; however it’s time to create our 21st Century future.

New systems mean new problems. Waveland is a small town of 7,000 people. We are gifted with the freedom to test ideas small and see which ones work and which ideas fail. We will cut short the failing ideas and let our winners ride. We will share our results with the MS Gulf Coast and lift us all into the Golden Age.

That’s what I have decided to achieve.

With your help, we will get upstream of our problems, protect our shoreline, re-engineer our municipal system and together we will Make Waveland Amazing. The website is www.mwa.ms.

The last name is Tinkler, your independent Mayor.

Acquired technical excellence and expanded my personal achievement earning next level as a Chief Engineer of a Broadcast station.

• Opportunities for broadcast capacity from a local Civil Defense concept truly took shape in 1993, by using the low powered AM backup transmitter from WBSL if main facility was damaged. That was the plan, access for trained Amateur Radio operators to control proper use of radio operations, primarily for emergency uses during communications disruptions, especially where at that time the most powerful hurricane (Camille) of the century devastated, (my community in the Bay) but AM radio was substantially ineffective in the reliable dissemination of information because of the interruption and interference from lightning static discharges in emergency uses.

• Hancock County Amateur Radio Assoc., Inc. first attempted to apply for a Non-Commercial Broadcast on FM. At that time there was a freeze on applications due to talk about new class broadcast service low-power FM service.

• Late 1994-completed and brought WBSL to recovered operational status.

(a central co-located communications facility with Amateur Radio emergency communications with back-up stand by local public service radio repeater systems for inter-operability issues during any kind of disaster or communication disruptions to existing public service systems.) The first type of facility in the U.S. To research, develop and model this pioneering concept of public service through radio communications with faster public warning systems. Development and incorporation of a solar-wind alternative powered Community Radio.

• Service protection project -“Rain, Shine or Another Hurricane Camille.” Serving through the “ART” of radio, concepts began.

• A broadcast station, amateur radio emergency operation center and backup public service communication facility, powered with alternative renewable energy sources has never been all co-located together in a disaster resistant, self-sufficient power generating communications facility to support specifically local emergency management operations and constructed to survive any type of man-made, natural disaster or backup facility for network model replication of facility that can be constructed effectively in a geographically spaced form throughout the entire U.S. for Homeland Defense, every communities protection and redundant public service backup operation, specifically for any type of emergency situation for every American citizens safety of life, health and property.

• 2000-after more than a year of engineering, legal research of corporation, IRS 501c3 investigation and eventual approval, HCARA, Inc. applied for and obtained a new 100 watt low power FM Broadcast Station for this underserved community to provide the only locally based 24-hour source, (with every warning event code in full automatic activation mode) Emergency Alert System for the citizens, including myself.

• September 2000-filed Broadcast application for WQRZ.

• December 2000 - HCARA, Inc. was just one of 255 out of approximately 3,800 applications to be technically proficient, sound and was accepted for further processing by the FCC.

• August 2001 - HCARA, Inc was issued a construction permit for this new station in 18 months expiration date.

• Sept 2001-with a renewed sense of priority Homeland Security Defense issues, the research, development and necessary incorporation of every type of communications systems to be added to the project. I continued stockpiling all types radios, finding surplus communications equipment, repeaters, portables, hand held radios, antennas, tower sections. I collected, repaired, recalibrated and refurbished more than 40 repeaters systems, dozens of handhelds, portable Vhf, Uhf, Hf and mobile units. Researched, designed and custom engineered the audio, video, data and power control systems for inter-operability between these communications systems.

• With no funding, I started to buy one piece of required broadcast station equipment each month out of my SSI allotments.

• Solely engineered the entire facility, I poured all concrete and physically assembled three communications towers myself.

• Latter part of WQRZ construction phase of the fall of 2002, during Hurricane Isadore and Lili, we lost our vehicles and still wasn’t successful in fundraising for HCARA, Inc. to build WQRZ, I asked my father to co-sign a loan to buy the $5,000 dc-powered broadcast transmitter and $2,000 for the Emergency Alert System. I finished construction of the new solar powered, battery-operated WQRZ- LP broadcast station with a four bay antenna at 110-ft mark, engineered for minimal energy consumption operation two weeks before final expiration of our FCC Construction Permit.

• To have a new service to provide a “working 24-hour a day, seven days a week Emergency Alert System EAS for our community.

• I was the only and sole communication source with outside world with all traffic in and out of ground zero with the broadcast, amateur radio and public service operation in the entire county for the first week following the disaster. Further development of large amounts of public community service and disaster recovery information programming continues to date.

ALDERMAN CANDIDATES

RHONDA
AIME-GAMBLE (R)

What is your educational/professional background and how would you apply that to your office on behalf of the people of Waveland?

I am a graduate of Our Lady Academy. I received my AA degree from Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College at Jeff Davis and then attended University of Southern Mississippi at Gulf Park. My paralegal career spanned nearly thirty years. I was the first Hancock County Justice Court Clerk and received years of continuing legal education hours from Ole Miss Judicial College. Having an astute attention to detail and the ability to move tasks forward expeditiously, I know what it takes to obtain the solutions and how to navigate the complicated governmental agencies to accomplish the difficult tasks that face our city.

What neighborhood do you live in and why? Where are your favorite places to spend time in Waveland?

I am a lifelong resident of the area, grew up on Ulman Avenue in Bay St. Louis, am the daughter of E.V. “Gus” Aime and the late Janet Breland Aime. I have lived in Ward 1 of Waveland for over 35 years where I raised my three children and am married to Ret. Army Major Jay V. Gamble. I am the fourth generation on both the Breland and Aime sides of my family to make Ward 1 my home. As a matter of fact, my home was built by my late grandfather, K. T. (Ted) Breland.

I love our community and the people in it. I enjoy meeting with people at various functions and events. We are very fortunate to live in an area where we can spend time at these events and take the time to enjoy the beauty of our beaches and parks. I am an avid reader and enjoy sitting in my yard under the shade of the large Live Oaks with a good book. I miss the days of taking my boys playing baseball at the Waveland fields, and shopping and visiting on Coleman.

What do you think the number one issue Waveland is facing right now and what would you do to resolve it?

Waveland has been struggling since Hurricane Katrina and I am committed to kicking Waveland’s economic development into high gear. It isn’t too late. But it requires a strong voice and proactive approach. We can accomplish this by expanding and improving community amenities, through cooperation and partnerships which will fuel infrastructure, education, business, and the non-profit sector. I want to work for the people of Ward 1 and the entire city of Waveland and be the voice for the people.

What is the one thing you like the most about life in Waveland?

I feel that the residents are the lifeblood and spirit that makes Waveland great. The resilience of those who make Waveland home keeps it moving forward. We are no stranger to the devastating forces of Mother Nature, having been literally destroyed during hurricanes of the past. But as the Phoenix rose from the ashes, we continue that resilient spirit and come together, neighbor helping neighbor, and rebuild better and more beautiful than before.

If you could change one thing about Waveland, what would it be?

If I could change just one thing about Waveland, it would be the pace at which city government moves and ad-resses current and potential issues. I believe in the potential for Waveland to be a power player along the coast. We need to tap into every resource at our disposal and create the energy needed to draw businesses, industry, and residents to our doorstep. Economic development is needed to reach the next step in our recovery. We owe that to our children and grandchildren to keep the next generations here locally.

Why are you seeking public office and what do you hope to achieve?

To say that I am passionate about my community is an understatement. I have a reputation for being the first to volunteer and assist with a public need. I have not waited for an election to lend a helping hand for the people of my ward and their needs. I have been actively participating in city issues, such as blighted properties, ordinances, the development of a golf cart reciprocal agreement, and the indexing and organization of the city charter. I have been asking questions to the city, both at the board meetings and directly to city hall and have sought documents for almost two years now to find the answers and the solutions. My experience and knowledge of Waveland removes the learning curve and provide Ward 1 with knowledgeable representation from day one. I want to continue my tireless effort and work for the people of Ward 1 as their voice in city government as their Alderman.

CROSBY TENNEY (I)

What is your educational/professional background and how would you apply that to your office on behalf of the people of Waveland?

I graduated from Bay High. I attended MG-CCC and was pursuing my RN degree when Hurricane Katrina hit the MS coast. I received my degree from Appalachian Technical College. I have been a stay-at-home mom since 2000. I have been involved with my children’s schools and held several PTSO offices. I have been instrumental in smaller proactive community activities, having been president of two homeowner associations.

What neighborhood do you live in and why? Where are your favorite places to spend time in Waveland?

I live in the Emerald Lake Estates neighborhood and my why is because I love it. My favorite place to spend time in Waveland is on our beautiful beaches. I enjoy cruising the beach with my children and grandchildren on the golf cart taking in all the salty air. I love our community.

What do you think the number one issue Waveland is facing right now and what would you do to resolve it?

I feel the number one issue Waveland is facing right now is the loss of pride, accepting status quo rather than expecting and working towards growth and being excited about the future.

What is the one thing you like the most about life in Waveland?

The one thing I like most about life in Waveland is the simplicity and friendliness of its people. We are a caring community.

If you could change one thing about Waveland, what would it be?

The one thing I would change about Waveland is I would clean up the blighted properties, bring in more jobs and improve communication between leaders and citizens.

Why are you seeking public office and what do you hope to achieve?

The reason I am seeking public office is because I feel it is my duty to make a change and be the change. I want to work with our new city leaders that will be elected on December 6 to get the job done. I hope to achieve transparency and bridge the gap in our community.

MATHEW ADAMS (L)

What is your educational/professional background and how would you apply that to your office on behalf of the people of Waveland?

I hold a B.S. in Construction Engineering Technology from USM. I’m a licensed residential builder, a licensed residential electrician, and am currently a private sector electrical engineer. I am also approaching my ninth year of service in the Mississippi State Guard where I am a Captain (O-3), company commander, and Military Emergency Management Specialist. My background has provided experience with the private and public sector contracting, interfacing with stakeholders and sub-contractors, and leading and developing personnel and soldiers. These experiences combined with my training in FEMA’s Incident Command Structure as an emergency management specialist are the reasons I will be able to offer the service Waveland’s citizens deserve.

What neighborhood do you live in and why? Where are your favorite places to spend time in Waveland?

I was raised in Bunny Park subdivision, on Turner St., and currently live in Anna Henry subdivision, on Nicholson Ave. I loved the neighborhood I grew up in for the quiet streets and friendly neighbors, so much so, that I continue to invest in this area and still enjoy living here. I love how close I am to the beach and enjoy going on aimless, weekend cruises along the beach and through town to keep up with development and municipal progress.

What do you think is the number one issue Waveland is facing right now and what would you do to resolve it?

Unaccountable leadership. I believe, through no single fault of any single person, that the Waveland government has become complacent and lethargic. We need accountable leadership that can be counted on to oversee their personnel efficiently and in the best interest of all Waveland taxpayers. This need for accountability goes all the way up to the Board of Alderman and Mayor. As your 1st Ward Alderman, I will take ownership of my decisions and actions. I will always hold the responsible use of taxpayer funds as my top priority. I will be accessible, transparent, and principled.

What is the one thing you like the most about life in Waveland?

I enjoy that I live in a small town. Small towns offer quiet, peaceful enjoyment of one’s private property that cannot be found just anywhere.

If you could change one thing about Waveland, what would it be?

The population’s interest in their local government. As a Libertarian, I believe that government is inherently inefficient, but the most effective government is found at the smallest level. At the city level, we can speak to our representatives regularly and actually influence their decision-making. Municipal government makes decisions that most closely affect people’s everyday lives. I believe everyone has a duty to be interested in the process before writing it off as failing.

Why are you seeking public office and what do you hope to achieve?

I am seeking public office because I believe the collection of my life experiences has brought me to a place of principled belief and ability that will best serve the residents of Waveland. Libertarians believe in NAP, the Non-Aggression Principle; meaning don’t hurt people, and don’t take their stuff. Living with one another really can be that simple. I want our government to provide the essential services taxpayers want, and I want it to be done in an efficient and trustworthy manner. I will achieve this as a Waveland Alderman.

I would use that experience in the position as alderman to benefit the city and Ward 2.

city is facing. I would work with the mayor and department heads to make Waveland a better place to live and raise a family.

What is the one thing you like the most about life in Waveland?

It’s a nice, quiet, small town city atmosphere.

If you could change one thing about Waveland, what would it be?

Create an atmosphere of more revenue for the city and make the city more business friendly and ensure that city officials are more engaged with the employees and the public.

Why are you seeking public office and what do you hope to achieve?

I’m seeking office because I feel that I have the experience and knowledge to bring to the board to work with the mayor and other aldermen to achieve great and better things for the city of Waveland.

I hope to help make Waveland the best city on the Coast to live and raise a family.

WARD 3
ALDERMAN CANDIDATE:

• Incumbent Shane La-Fontaine is running unopposed and did not participate in the question and answer forum.

WARD 4
ALDERMAN CANDIDATES:

GARY CATALANO (R)

What is your educational/professional background and how would you apply that to your office on behalf of the people of Waveland?

Honorable discharge from the United States Marine Corp. in 1975.

As a young man, I went from a laborer to owning my own businesses, by making common sense decisions in the sales and financial fields knowing that my decisions would affect other people’s lives as well.

What neighborhood do you live in and why? Where are your favorite places to spend time in Waveland?

My wife Gwyn and I live in Idlewood subdivision. Idlewood is a quiet area with room for our eight grandkids to play safely in the streets and close to the beach.

What do you think the number one issue Waveland is facing right now and what would you do to resolve it?

Waveland has many issues that need to be addressed. The first thing we need to do is change the appearance of Hwy. 603 and Hwy. 90 coming into Waveland. We have more empty commercial space than any other city on the coast. With my business knowledge, I will work hard with the next administration to help change the appearance of entering our city so we can bring new businesses to the city to fill the empty retail spaces and bring tax dollars to the city to help keep our taxes down. Thereby, the city will have the money to support the police and fire and other departments of the city. Also, we need to bring Coleman Avenue back. The city needs a sports complex that will also bring tax dollars. The city has the property already on Waveland Avenue. We need activities for our kids and grandkids’ future. There are way too many unmaintained properties and code enforcement need to be applied.

What is the one thing you like the most about life in Waveland?

The southern hospitality is unbeatable, serenity on the beaches fishing, casinos, and low crime rate.

If you could change one thing about Waveland, what would it be?

Promote and improve our quality of living. Preserve the integrity of a great town of coastal living.

Why are you seeking public office and what do you hope to achieve?

(MWGA) To have the opportunity to be a public official for the city will be an honor to bring loyalty and transparency to all citizens of Waveland. I will make sure that I remember that I work for the citizens of Waveland, the voice of the people, to give back what has been given to our family and help Waveland get back on the map. I hope to achieve that Waveland will be known as the first on the coast again. God bless the city of Waveland and the citizens of Waveland.

JEREMY CLARK (I)

What is your educational/professional background and how would you apply that to your office on behalf of the people of Waveland?

I graduated from Saint Stanislaus High School in 1998 and have a B.A. in Psychology from The University of Southern Mississippi. I have worked at Saint Stanislaus for 16 years serving in several leadership positions. I have spent 11 years on the school’s administration team, serving as Director of Residency, Director of Guidance, and Dean of Students. I am currently in my fourth year as the Director of Admissions.

In my positions at the school, I have tackled a variety of challenges head on. I don’t look for quick fixes, I look for long-term solutions. I have successfully created innovative programs and efficient, streamlined processes. Throughout the years, I have learned to lead by example. If elected, I will apply the same approach to my work for the city as I do in my career, showing commitment, initiative, and foresight. I will use sound judgment and strategic thinking to make sure that decisions are being made with the best interest of Waveland in mind.

What neighborhood do you live in and why? Where are your favorite places to spend time in Waveland?

I live in what is historically known as the Mestayer Subdivision, which is located between Market Street and Sears Avenue. My wife and I chose this area for our home because of the scenic beauty that surrounds our property and its proximity to the beach.

Some of my favorite places to spend time in Waveland are on the beach or on the water fishing and boating with my family. I also enjoy spending time at home doing yard work with my wife, grilling out, watching football, and playing with my son.

What do you think the number one issue Waveland is facing right now and what would you do to resolve it?

In my opinion, the City of Waveland faces several critical issues. Most of them are fairly evident and I do not think that any one is more critical than the others. At the end of the day, it boils down to a lack of revenue -- primarily tax revenue. In order to increase tax revenue, we need to be able to attract residents and businesses alike to support that goal. We need to develop strategies to showcase the benefits and incentives of working, operating, and living in Waveland. I know that there are no quick solutions and I cannot say that I know all the answers to our issues. I can promise that, if elected, I will work diligently with my fellow aldermen and the mayor to find viable solutions.

What is the one thing you like the most about life in Waveland?

There are many reasons why I like life in Waveland, but if I had to choose only one it would be the sense of community and support among neighbors. You need only take a walk on the beach or visit Coleman Avenue for Food Truck Friday to see how welcoming and accepting the people of Waveland really are!

If you could change one thing about Waveland, what would it be?

My goal, if elected, is not to “change” Waveland. I can identify several areas that are in need of improvement, and my goal is to advance and rejuvenate Waveland while maintaining our community’s values and culture. I want to help create a Waveland that is self-sufficient and able to identify and solve its own problems.

Why are you seeking public office and what do you hope to achieve?

I am running for alderman in Ward 4 because I truly believe that I can serve the citizens of Waveland and make a positive impact on the city’s future. If elected, I will work hand-in-hand with fellow officials to establish a shared vision for the future, and to develop goals and plans that make that future possible. I will work with my colleagues and constituents to enact policies and procedures that will ultimately lead to long-term sustainable success.

LYNN T. SMITH (L)

What is your educational/professional background and how would you apply that to your office on behalf of the people of Waveland?

My name is Lynn T. Smith and I am running for Ward 4 Alderman. I attended George Walton Comprehensive High School, Marietta, GA and studied Commercial Art and History at University of Georgia. I attended Watkins Institute, Nashville, TN towards an Associates Degree in Fine Arts.

From 1986 to 2005 I worked as a sous chef and chef at various venues managing kitchens where I was able to bring food and labor cost down but maintaining an excellent quality product coming out of my kitchens. I have been in service to my community as a volunteer since 2013 working at WQRZ-103.5 FM/ WQRG-96.3 FM which is part of the Hancock County Amateur Radio Association, Incorporated. I serve as Administrative Assistant but my duties also included Radio Operations, Air Shifts, Marketing and alerting our listeners of hazards when we have inclement weather. In 2014 I became a Ham Radio operator, my handle is KG5CNJ. I have numerous Incident Command System (ICS) certifications from FEMA so I could continue serving my community as a volunteer at the Hancock County Emergency Management Agency (EMA) during bad weather, if it’s a Hurricane, I work in the radio room at the Emergency Operation Center (EOC) and have previously run the Cold Weather Shelter and Safe Room on numerous occasions. With my management skills and communication skills I can be of service to my Ward 4 neighbors.

What neighborhood do you live in and why? Where are your favorite places to spend time in Waveland?

Currently I reside in Shoreline Park at the end of Indian Street. The sparse population makes it a quiet place to be with plenty of room and wildlife and just minutes to whatever services I may need. My favorite place to spend time in Waveland is here at home and the beach.

What do you think the number one issue Waveland is facing right now and what would you do to resolve it?

Waveland is at a fork in the road right now and hurricane protection should be the number one priority. Louisiana keeps building more levees that will push the water towards us during any kind of Tropical Storm that comes towards the area or the West of us and the Sea Level keeps rising. The people who live on the beach and in the Shoreline area on both sides of Highway 603 suffer every time. We need to start out economically and maybe adding reefs to slow down storm surges could be one solution for the these areas of Waveland and maybe going back to MDOT and other agencies about rethinking the water-flow up on 603. Last, let’s all think about more family friendly green spaces and common areas. Flood insurance keeps getting more expensive and will be harder to get. The Mississippi Gulf Coast is getting cluttered enough so let’s keep our beach areas in Waveland ‘a place to get away from the rest to rest’.

What is the one thing you like the most about life in Waveland?

The best thing about Waveland are the people. Strong, resilient, good and kind folks.

If you could change one thing about Waveland, what would it be?

Our corridors need help. Highway 603 and Highway 90 do not have a pleasing appearance. Some new ordinances on signage and starting with some trees being planted are a good start and inexpensive. Ward 4 North of Highway 90 is so overgrown on the roadsides. Cutting the area twice a year isn’t working. It’s only aesthetics, but a start. Roads in the area since I’ve been here have also needed help.

Why are you seeking public office and what do you hope to achieve?

Soon I will be going door-to-door to hear what the residents in the area need and want and will listen to any suggestions. I will always be available to hear from all my neighbors. I am seeking public office to be a voice for Ward 4! I do have one agenda and that’s to be part of making Waveland a place that folks want to come and live and for them to become a part of our community. Please give me your vote of confidence and lets get to work to better our city of Waveland.

THE SEA COAST ECHO

Lady Hawks stay undefeated on hardwood, Tigers beat Vancleave in soccer

BY JOSEPH W. GEX, II
STAFF WRITER

Just as the sports of basketball and soccer get in a little groove, the teams run into a holiday break.

BASKETBALL

BAY HIGH TIGERS

The Bay High Tigers played just one game last week against Biloxi and were swept losing 70-31 in the boys game and 45-19 in the girls game.

Avan Wilson recorded 12 points, 5 rebounds, and 3 assists for Bay High in the loss.

HANCOCK HAWKS

The Hawks and Lady Hawks both remained undefeated last week with wins over Presbyterian Christian and Pass Christian.

The boys defeated PCS 67-64 after falling behind 21-13 in the first period.

Hancock head coach Colin Goley stated, "We struggled a little bit in the first period against a well coached team. We were able to recover in the third period and come away with the win. It was tough all the way through and when the long ball started to fall for us, we fed off of that."

Jackson Corey had 19 points and Braden Wilshire added 21 points, all on three-point shots, in the win. For the game, Hancock was 14-for-27 from beyond the arc.

In the girls game, the Lady Hawks beat PCS 59-48 as Brooklyn Cuevas had 14 followed by Jenna Garriga with 13, and Anslee James with 10 points. Riley Bishop had 9 along with Talana Bond 9.

SAINT STANISLAUS/OUR LADY ACADEMY

The Saint Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws dropped a game with Pass Christian 58-27 on Wednesday and St. Martin 60-20 on Friday.

In the game against the Pirates, the Rocks were led by Spencer Cornell with 7 points and Bruno Dall had 7 points and 8 rebounds in his first nine minutes of organized basketball.

The Pirates were paced by Brendan Ne-caise with 18 points followed by LJ Jaynes with 12 and Dillon Woods with 10.

SSC head coach Daniel Grieves commented, "Bruno Dall has never played basketball before and came away with 7 points and 8 rebounds in just 9 minutes of play. As he and several football players get more in basketball shape, we should look different than we look right now. Success does not come before hard work which is what we are doing right now."

OLA fell to Sacred Heart last week 49-31 and Lumberton 59-18. Against Sacred Heart, the Crescents were led by Myah Favre with 11 points and 4 rebounds. Anne Pierson and Kendall Pavolini both scored 5 points and had 4 rebounds.

In the loss to Lumberton, AnnaLaura Williford had 7 points, 7 rebounds, and 2 steals while Favre and Claire Wojtowicz each had 5 rebounds.

SOCCER

BAY HIGH TIGERS

The Tigers beat Vancleave 5-3 behind a hat trick from Avery Harris and single goals from Bryton Dupuy and D'urso Singleton. The Tigers also tied Long Beach 0-0.

The Lady Tigers beat

Long Beach 2-1 and tied Vancleave 1-1. In each game, Chloe Knight had a goal for the Lady Tigers.

HANCOCK HAWKS

The Hancock Hawks tied Pascagoula 2-2 but game details were not available for scoring or for the Lady Hawks' contest.

SAINT STANISLAUS/OUR LADY ACADEMY

The Rock-A-Chaws beat St. Martin 3-0 in their only game last week but scoring details were not available.

Game details for the OLA and East Central contest were not available.

Shore Thing: One for Pappy

Shore Thing Fishing Report
By Cpt. Sonny Schindler

Family fishing trips are without a doubt my favorite groups take fishing. Grandparents, parents and the kiddos, those are the best! We had a full house on the boat, with some great locals.

Casey Marquar (Mrs Mississippi America), had been trying her best to get this trip together for a while. Between her kids schedule, her dance studio, kids and pagents, it was not looking good. After several failed attempts, the planets aligned, and we got the whole crew together. The guest of honor, was of course her dad,

Mr Milton Bernard aka “Pappy”. It’s pretty tough not enjoy Mr Miltons company. Seldom is he not smiling, or telling a funny story. He told me from the get go, that he wanted his grandkids to catch fish, and he only wanted to fish artificial baits. He and I each took of a side of the boat, and helped the younger ones get hooked up. The fishing and the kiddos were both fantastic. It was big black drum, redfish, sheepshead, and plenty of them. It was already shaping up to be a good day. In no time, the boat was pretty much running itself. Everyone was casting, netting, and baiting their own hooks. It was Mr Miltons turn to Have a little fun. Even though he knew the live bait was getting bit almost every cast, he still wanted to cast his soft plastic bait. I certainly admired his confidence and determination. It took many more casts, but he finally connected on something big. He played the fish effortlessly, and never lost his trademark grin. We had the net ready and waiting when he eased probably the biggest flounder my boat has seen all year!

I think it was the only good bite he got all day, but boy did he make it count. Back at the dock me and the kiddos ink stamped(Gyotaku) the big flounder, as a tribute to a great fisherman, a great family, and just a great day. Here’s to you Pappy!!!

Potential and Gratitude: A Thanksgiving Reflection

By REV. C. GERALD RICHARDSON, D. MIN

C. GERALD RICHARDSON, D. MIN.

My wife and I are the proud grandparents of three wonderful boys.

One is now a college freshman and taller than both of us, so the moniker “boy” may not be as appropriate as it once was, but old habits are hard to break. Our joy in them, and in watching them grow and mature has been among the great blessings of our lives.

Each one is unique in his own way.

All are smart, good students, and very athletic. Soccer is a big part of their lives, and many a cold evening has been spent by doting grandparents watching games in stadiums along the Mississippi Gulf Coast. It is a good life, and we are very grateful.

One of the realities which often comes to mind in these days is the concept of potential.

I do not know what the future of these boys will be. Since I do know something about life, I can assume that they will have their share of challenges. I trust that they will meet them with courage and grace, and that they will always be mindful of their own responsibility for making something good out of the situations which they face.

Potential is a wonderful, and yet mysterious part of life. By its very nature, potential is undiscovered and unrevealed hope which must be activated by living.

There is no other way to do it. It cannot be purchased with money, conjured in dreams, or ordered by someone with power.

A beautiful hymn written by the late Natalie Sleeth describes the significance of potential. Some of the lines are as follows:

“In the bulb there is a flower, in the seed, an apple tree;

In cocoons, a hidden promise, butterflies will soon be free!

In the cold and snow of winter there’s a spring that waits to be,

Unrevealed until its season, something God alone can see.

There’s a song in every silence, seeking word and melody,

There’s dawn in every darkness, bringing hope to you and me.

From the past will come the future; what it holds a mystery

Unrevealed until its season, something God alone can see.

When I look at the shining, hopeful, expectant faces of our grandsons, I cannot help but think of the beauty and power of those lyrics from Sleeth. Those boys represent not only the joy of our current lives, but they also speak to us of the future which lies far beyond our vision.

Of course, this is true of much of life.

Our children and grandchildren are visible and wondrous reminders that our lives extend beyond the mortality of our days. We do not know what they will become, nor the challenges they will face. We pray for them, and we give thanks for the blessings which they bring to us. Of course, the potential is theirs.

I trust in their future which will be realized mostly after my time, and I am thankful for the experiences which we share during these days. Thanks be to God.

What is the ERC?

In response to the many challenges faced by small businesses during the pandemic, Congress passed relief legislation which included the ERC. This credit recognizes employers who kept their employees and paid them wages during the worst of the pandemic.

However, it's not just for businesses. Non-profit organizations who have W-2 employees may also be eligible.

Why haven't I heard of it?

You've probably heard of PPP loans, but maybe not the ERC. Well, they come from the same legislation, but the ERC is not as well known due to previous uncertainty surrounding eligibility guidance. Now, with clearer guidance and professional help, your organization can receive the credit it has earned.

→ How do I get the ERC?

To get the ERC, you must amend your previously filed quarterly tax returns for tax years 2020 and 2021. Our firm can help you achieve this and maximize your ERC. We will also provide you a comprehensive claims package which details your eligibility, and we will stand by our work, giving you peace of mind.

→ Is my organization eligible?

Eligibility for the ERC is based on both numbers and facts associated with how your business was impacted by the pandemic. We would be happy to schedule a free, no obligation meeting to discuss your eligibility.

→ There's still time!

The IRS generally provides three years from when you originally filed to amend your tax returns and claim the credit!
